

ITESM

Instituto Tecnológico y de Estudios Superiores de Monterrey

Monterrey, Mexico

ITESM (Instituto Tecnológico y de Estudios Superiores de Monterrey), a system of 26 campuses located throughout Mexico, was founded in 1943 by a group of Mexican businessmen. ITESM's main campus is located in Monterrey and it offers programs in several disciplines, including business. ITESM has gained national and international recognition for its academic programs. It is accredited both by the Mexican government and in the United States by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. Around 13,350 students are enrolled in 18 undergraduate and graduate programs at ITESM in Monterrey, a city with a population of 4 million, located 180 miles south of the US Mexican border.

ITESM provides international academic experiences for its students and professors and encourages international students and faculty to come to the TEC. The Institute also promotes research and extension programs abroad and seeks activities that support its global mission. ITESM's Virtual University, a distance learning system, provides links throughout the Americas, and is a world-leader in education via satellite.

Undergraduate Texas A&M University students, usually at the junior level, will be permitted to take courses during the regular ITESM semesters at the Monterrey campus, Tecnológico de Monterrey. You must register for 12 credit hours of course work at TAMU each semester while enrolled at ITESM. Although a few courses are offered in English, fluency in Spanish is required to attend classes and take full advantage of the academic and cultural experience.
